Out of Order

To use a library, you have to know that books are placed on bookshelves in a certain order. Some books are alphabetized by the author's last name (fiction). Other books are placed on the shelves in numerical order and alphabetical order (nonfiction books).

A fiction book shows the first two letters of the author's last name on the spine.

► Look at the bookshelves below. They are almost correctly alphabetized by the authors' last names, but some books are out of order. Circle the books that are out of order and draw an arrow to show where they belong.
