Order Up!

When you look at fiction books on bookshelves, you will notice they are in a certain order. Fiction books are arranged according to the first two letters of the author's last name.

► Look at the fiction call numbers on the left. Draw a line to match each call number on the left to the author who wrote the book on the right. Then write the authors' names in alphabetical order on the lines. This is the order you would find them in on the bookshelves.
